Dear Father Greene, Christ's peace!

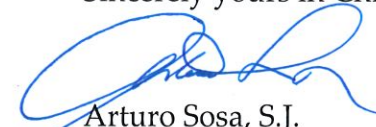

On 15 June 2024 you shared with me your reflections on the most recent Mission Priorities Examen at Regis University. I have also reviewed the self-study, the report of the colleagues from other Jesuit universities who visited Regis, and letters from the Presidents of the AJCU and the JCCU.

The MPE process extended over three years. Although this caused some difficulties, the repetition and revision might also point toward the possibility of a more synodal style of governance that incorporates discernment in common in an ongoing way, with widespread participation by students, faculty, trustees, network partners, and other stakeholders.

At the end of the formal MPE process, the university identified mission priorities that are contextualized, specific, timely, and achievable: to nurture the university's Catholic identity locally as well as more broadly; to become a more robust Jesuit Catholic Hispanic-Serving Institution; and to implement more fully the Laudato Si' Action Plan. Actions consonant with these priorities have been incorporated into the university's strategic plan.

Taking all this material into account, at your recommendation and with full confidence in the university's leadership, I confirm the Catholic and Jesuit identity and mission of Regis University. Please thank President Aceves and all who participated in this examen, and assure them of my prayers as they continue the journey.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Arturo Sosa, S.J.
Superior General
